2 CHAIRMAN'S LETTER

Dear Kin Mining shareholder

On behalf of the Board of Directors of Kin Mining NL (ASX:KIN), I am pleased to present to you this offer document in relation to a non-renounceable rights issue to raise up to A$12.9 million (before costs). I ask that you consider this document carefully and in its entirety.

In summary, Kin shareholders are being offered the opportunity to subscribe for 1 new share for every 6.5 Kin Shares held at the record date of 15 October 2021.

The New Shares are being offered at a price of $0.105, representing an 13.6% discount to the 5-day volume weighted average price of Kin shares and a 12.6% discount to the 10-day volume weighted average price before the announcement of the rights issue on 11 October 2021.

Pleasingly, the Company has received confirmation from substantial shareholders that they intend to participate in the Offer. Collectively these shareholders have provided commitments to subscribe for $4.61M (36%) of the Entitlement Offer.

The capital raising will provide the Company with sufficient working capital to continue the successful exploration at the Cardinia Gold Project (CGP) and Kin's regional tenure holdings. Further exploration is expected to include identification of new targets and extensional and infill drilling of the recent discoveries with plans to deliver further Mineral Resource estimates for new projects.

The Board have been encouraged by the latest expansion of the Mineral Resource Estimate for the Cardinia Hill project to 2.2Mt at 1.5g/t for 106,000 ounces and the recent discovery of other new exploration targets at Cardinia and in the regional tenure package. The Board remains hopeful of more discoveries from the geological knowledge coming from the recently completed gravity survey across the Company's tenure and continued growth from the upcoming planned drilling programs.

Your Company has a substantial gold endowment of over 1,275,000 ounces and is located in a strategic mining province with growing interest and investment by significant industry players.

Your Board remain confident that Kin's Mineral Resource's and tenure package hold significant value that is not being reflected in the current Share price.

On behalf of the Company, I thank you for your continued support.

Yours sincerely

Chairman, Kin Mining NL

3 SUMMARY OF THE OFFER

3.1 Investment Overview

Since late 2019 Kin has been pursuing a pathway to development from strategic and intentional exploration to define new and additional deposits with a margin similar to or better than the established Cardinia area deposits. These additional deposits are planned to

- a) displace the Mertondale deposits which made a smaller contribution to the Cardinia Gold Project (CGP) economic return;
- b) increase the gold output and margin in the early years of development; and
- c) extend the life of the CGP as stand alone gold processing facility.

Kin has an extensive landholding between Cardinia and Mertondale and has several regional tenure packages in addition to the Cardinia holding. Much of this area lies under shallow alluvial sheetwash and has undergone only limited modern exploration. The area was avoided by the historical prospectors of the time as the techniques available to them were unable to detect mineralisation through the shallow cover. In addition, there were easier pickings in areas of sub-crop around Cardinia.

In 2020 and 2021 Kin has significantly advanced its geological understanding of the landholding from extensive geochemical sampling, geological mapping, gravity surveys and drilling programs across much of the landholding.

Modern geophysical and geochemical techniques applied systematically to the covered area between Cardinia and Mertondale have provided the key to unlocking the significant potential of this area.

At the Cardinia area, Kin has extended the depth of understanding of several deposits including Bruno-Lewis, Helens and Hobby, and has added new Mineral Resources like the 2.2Mt @ 1.50g/t for 106,000 oz Cardinia Hill deposit. In the regional land packages Kin has begun work on exciting prospects like Mt Flora and Iron King.

These exploration successes have enabled Kin to add 434,000oz of Mineral Resources since late 2019 at a discovery cost of less than $50/oz.

Kin is looking forward to exciting times ahead with considerable exploration success, growing the Mineral Resource inventory to support development of the CGP and being a meaningful player in the ongoing consolidation and developments in the Leonora region.

6 KEY RISK FACTORS

6.1 Overview

Investment in the New Shares offered under this Offer Document should be regarded as speculative due to the inherent risks associated with the Company's activities as the Company is a gold exploration and development company. Neither the Company nor the Directors warrant the future performance of the Company or any investment made pursuant to this Offer Document.

The Directors recommend that Eligible Shareholders and potential investors examine the contents of this Offer Document together with previous ASX disclosures and public documents of the Company, including its most recent audited financial statements, and rely on the advice of their professional advisers before deciding whether or not to apply for New Shares pursuant to this Offer Document.

The following summary, which is not exhaustive, represents some of the material risk factors that may affect the financial position of the Company, the value of an investment in the Company, as well as the Company's operations, which potential investors need to be aware of.

The risks outlined below are specific to the Company's operations and to the resource exploration industry in which the Company operates.

(a) Future capital needs and additional funding for the Project

The funds raised by the Offer will primarily be used to continue programs of work with respect to the identification of new targets and extensional and infill drilling of the recent discoveries at the Cardinia Project and regional targets with plans to deliver mineral resource estimates for new projects.

These funds will not be sufficient to complete all possible exploration or development of the Company's tenements and further funding will be required to fund the Company's ongoing exploration and development obligations.

The future capital needs of the Company to continue exploration beyond the currently anticipated expenditure are greater than the proceeds of the Offer.

The Company's ability to raise further capital (equity or debt) within an acceptable time, of a sufficient amount and on terms acceptable to the Company will vary according to a number of factors, including prospectivity of projects (existing and future), the results of exploration, subsequent feasibility studies, development and mining, stock market and industry conditions and the price of relevant commodities and exchange rates.

No assurance can be given that future funding will be available to the Company on favourable terms (or at all).

If adequate funds are not available on acceptable terms the Company may not be able to further explore or develop the Project and it may impact on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern.

(b) Exploration and Development

The business of mineral exploration, project development and production, by its nature, contains elements of significant risk with no guarantee of success. Ultimate and continuous success of these activities is dependent on, among other things:

- (i) the discovery or acquisition of economically recoverable reserves;
- (ii) access to adequate capital for project development;
- (iii) design and construction of efficient development and production infrastructure within capital expenditure budgets;
- (iv) securing and maintaining title to mineral interests;
- (v) obtaining consents and approvals necessary for the conduct of mineral exploration, development and production; and
- (vi) access to competent operational management and prudent financial administration, including the availability and reliability of appropriately skilled and experienced employees, contractors and consultants.

Whether or not income will result from projects undergoing exploration and development programs depends on successful exploration and the establishment of production facilities.

There is no assurance that any exploration on current or future interests will result in the discovery of an economic mineral deposit. Even if an apparently viable deposit is identified, there is no guarantee that it can be economically developed.

(c) Cardinia Gold Project

As announced to the ASX on 30 August 2019, the Company has completed a Pre-Feasibility Study (PFS) on the CGP. The PFS outcomes show the CGP is a project with production potential and significant leverage to the currently strong Australian dollar gold price, however the Board has determined to prioritise opportunities to add higher margin ore feed prior to commencing further development studies.

Exploration completed by Kin and previous explorers at the CGP prior to November 2019 had focused on historic mining centres in areas of surface outcrop. Around 60% of the tenement area is located under shallow, transported cover and has been subject to little modern exploration. A program of mapping, geochemical sampling and geophysics commenced in November 2019 and will continue to target new discoveries in these underexplored parts of proven mineralised corridors.

During 2020 and 2021 Kin has had outstanding success with the drill rig following up on a series of new targets which has highlighted the potential of the Cardinia Gold Project to contain significant higher grade, zones of mineralisation outside the existing Mineral Resources.

Following a systematic approach to exploration has given Kin a better idea of where and how to target the next phase of drilling, which will be designed both to define new resources and to identify additional discoveries.

The potential to enhance the mineral inventory through regional consolidation opportunities will also be evaluated given Kin's location in the Leonora region with processing infrastructure which has been purchased and partially developed. Other alternative strategic options may also be considered.

There is no guarantee that the further work to be undertaken by the Company will result in a re-commencement of the development of the CGP or result in an improvement in the economic feasibility of the CGP.

(d) Resource Estimates

Resource estimates are expressions of judgment based on knowledge, experience and industry practice. Estimates that were valid when made may change when new information or techniques become available. In addition, resource estimates are necessarily imprecise and depend to some extent on interpretations, which may prove to be inaccurate. Even if the Company identifies a resource or reserve, actual Ore Reserves and Mineral Resources (including grade and quantity) may differ from those estimated at an earlier time which may result in alterations to development and mining plans which may, in turn, adversely affect the Company's operations.

(e) Exploration and Mining Risk

The business of mineral exploration and mining involves risks and hazards. For example, in an exploration context no assurance can be given that ore bodies will be detected with preferred or desirable tonnages or grades. High risk and substantial expense can be incurred without the requisite or expected degree of reward.

Even if commercial quantities of gold ore are discovered, unforeseen risks can arise in the development and production phase including the development of appropriate metallurgical processes, the receipt of necessary governmental permits, access to permits and the construction of mining and processing facilities, environmental hazards, industrial accidents, labour disruption, the unavailability of materials and equipment, unusual or unexpected geological formation, pit failures, changes in the regulatory environment and weather conditions. Such occurrences could result in damage to, or destruction of, mineral properties or production facilities, personal injury or death, environmental damage, delays in mining, monetary losses and possible legal liability.

(f) Ability to Exploit Successful Discoveries

It may not always be possible for the Company to participate in the exploitation of successful discoveries made in areas in which the Company has an interest. Such exploitation will involve the need to obtain the necessary licences or clearances from the relevant authorities, which may require conditions to be satisfied and/or the exercise of discretions by such authorities. It may or may not be possible for such conditions to be satisfied. The infrastructure requirements around a successful discovery may also impact on the exploitation of a discovery.

Further, the decision to proceed to further exploitation may require the participation of other companies whose interests and objectives may not be the same as those of the Company. As described above, such work may require the Company to meet or commit to financing obligations for which it may not have planned.

(g) Compliance Risk

The Company holds an interest in various mining tenements. Title to these tenements is subject to the Company, as tenement holder, complying with the terms and conditions of each tenement, including the minimum annual expenditure commitments. There is a risk that if the Company does not comply with the terms and conditions of each tenement, it may lose its interest in the relevant tenement.

The Company has implemented appropriate policies and practices to mitigate the risk of not complying with the terms and conditions attaching to each of its tenements.

(h) Environmental Risk

The Company's activities are subject to the environmental risks inherent in the mining industry. The Company is subject to environmental laws and regulations in connection with operations it may pursue in the mining industry. The Company intends to conduct its activities in an environmentally responsible manner and in accordance with all applicable laws. However, the Company may be the subject of accidents or unforeseen circumstances that could subject the Company to extensive liability.

Further, the Company may require approval from the relevant authorities before it can undertake activities likely to impact the environment. Failure to obtain such approvals will prevent the Company from undertaking its desired activities. The Company is unable to predict the effect of additional environmental laws and regulations that may be adopted in the future, including whether any such laws or regulations would materially increase the Company's cost of doing business or affect its operations in any area.

(i) Insurance

Insurance against all risks associated with mineral exploration is not always available or affordable. The Company will maintain insurance where it is considered appropriate for its needs however it will not be insured against all risks either because appropriate cover is not available or because the Directors consider the required premiums to be excessive having regard to the benefits that would accrue.

The occurrence of an event that is not covered or fully covered by insurance could have a material adverse effect on the business, financial condition and results of the operations of the Company. There is no assurance that the Company will be able to maintain adequate insurance in the future at rates that it considers is reasonable.

(j) Commodity Price Volatility

If the Company achieves success leading to mineral production, the revenue it will derive through the sale of gold exposes the potential income of the Company to commodity price and exchange rate risks. Commodity prices fluctuate and are affected by many factors beyond the control of the Company. Such factors include supply and demand fluctuations for precious and base metals, technological advancements, forward selling activities and other macro-economic factors.

Furthermore, international prices of various commodities are denominated in United States dollars, whereas the income and expenditure of the Company are and will be taken into account in Australian currency, exposing the Company to the fluctuations and volatility of the rate of exchange between the United States dollar and the Australian dollar as determined in international markets.

6.2 General investment risks

The risks outlined below are some of the general risks that may affect an investment in the Company.

(a) Securities investments and share market conditions

There are risks associated with any securities investment. The prices at which the securities trade may fluctuate in response to a number of factors.

Furthermore, the stock market, and in particular the market for exploration and mining companies may experience extreme price and volume fluctuations that may be unrelated or disproportionate to the operating performance of such companies. These factors may materially adversely affect the market price of the securities of the Company regardless of the Company's operational performance. Neither the Company nor the Directors warrant the future performance of the Company, or any return of an investment in the Company.

(b) Liquidity risk

The market for the Company's Shares may be illiquid. As a consequence, investors may be unable to readily exit or realise their investment.

(c) Economic risk

Changes in both Australia and world economic conditions may adversely affect the financial performance of the Company. Factors such as inflation, currency fluctuations, interest rates, industrial disruption and economic growth may impact on future operations and earnings.

(d) COVID 19

The on-going COVID-19 pandemic has not had, and is not expected to have, a material adverse effect on the Company's exploration activities and financial performance. However there have been a number of recent events associated with the COVID-19 pandemic, and the containment measures implemented in response, which collectively may affect Kin's ability to be able to undertake its exploration activities in accordance with current plans and timetables. Any increase in containment measures resulting from further waves of infections could potentially have a flow through impact on Kin's ability to be able to undertake its exploration activities, could result in delays to Kin's work program and the announcement of any results and may affect Kin's ability to be able to raise further capital in the future.
